SUMMARY

I am a senior developer keen on web technologies. I have more than 10 years of experience, but I still believe the best is yet to come.

I have no CS university degree, but I have practical experience working as a PHP, JavaScript and SFCC developer and real enthusiasm to learn new technologies.

My work is a living proof that the engineering approach is more mindset than professional degree.

I have been a proud member of both small teams and enterprises delivering quality web solutions to one of the most visited adult website worldwide; the third biggest car shipping company in U.S. Montway Inc; some huge entertainment and retail companies.

My professional background includes valuable experience as freelancer, too
